Hi, I'm Johnny!

I've been playing guitar for X number of years, toured with this guy and that guy, in here and there, received awards for this and that, love it very much.

Annotations

Here is what a finished Profile page will look like (in the wireframe world, that is).

- 1 Similar to Facebook, users can send a Friend Request and "Like Profile"—grey check marks will turn black (or other colour) to indicate the status.
- 2 We don't want to overwhelm viewers with all the info at once so it's been split into four: first users can see the personal info of the member and then, based on the credentials shown, they'll decide if they want to see the portfolio, member's posts (calls) and testimonials.
- 3 If all goes well, users can send a direct Message to the member and tell him how great he is.
